

THE SON

Arbind Kumar Choudhary

The son becomes the sun
In the family
For the sovereignty
Of the heraldry.

&

The son, howsoever insane is,
Becomes the sender in the heaven
As if were the maker of the universe.

&

The snakish son is blooming
In disguise of heaven- sender
On this land of gander.

&

The inherited tradition
Requires replacement
Like the necromancy
Of the evil spirits.

Contributor:

Arbind Kumar Choudhary, the originator of Arbindonean Racy Style and Indianised version of Arbindonean Sonnets in Indian English poetry, has propounded his philosophy of life, nature, love and poetry in 'Melody', 'Nature', 'Love' and 'The Poet' for the saving grace of Tom, Dick and Harry on this strife-stricken earth. Dr. Choudhary has been included in Cambridge Dictionary of English Writers, London in 2009, World Poetry Almanac, Mongolia in 2008, 2009 & 2010, Four Contemporary Indian English Poets, 2014, Romania, English Poetry in India, 2012, Contemporary Poets in 2012 and Five Indian English Poets, Jaipur in 2015. Presently Dr. Arbind Kumar Choudhary, an editor of Kohinoor, is heading the Deptt of English at Rangachahi College, Majuli, Assam-785104.